In the Classroom

ELA: In reading, we will begin our next module called: come To Your Senses which poses the essential question: How do people and animals use their senses to navigate the world? Throughout this module students will read texts connecting to the senses and compose an essay about an animal with unique senses and adaptations.

Math: In math, students will begin Topic 2. During this unit, they will focus on fluently adding and subtracting multi-digit whole numbers. They will use standard algorithms for addition and subtraction, both with and without regrouping. Additionally, students will explore strategies for estimating the sums and differences of whole numbers.

Social Studies: In social studies, students will begin to explore the geography of New York State. Through collaborative activities, students will learn that New York has a diverse geography. Throughout this unit, we will look at various maps and how they can be used to represent and examine the geography of New York State.
