Module 2 - My Family, My Community

Essential Question: How does everyone in my family and community make them special?

What We Are Learning

Reading, Writing, Math, Social Studies

≡ Reading ≡

In Reading this month, students will build their skills as a reader and explore how they fit in their family and community. They will understand ideas and support text organization, retell events in a story, identify the setting, make connections, and ask and answer questions while reading.

≡ Writing ≡

In Writing this month, students will use a focal text to brainstorm ideas in order to create a descriptive story. Students will create a story about the special things in their world and community.

≡ Math ≡

In Math this month, students will begin to transition their understanding of number sense to building addition and subtraction fluency up to 10 using models, commutative property and using the equal sign.

≡ Social Studies ≡

In Social Studies this month, students will learn the many ways that families provide and care for each other by understanding needs and wants.
